

Getting the cancer care you need feels better here.

When you find out you have cancer, your life gets very complicated very quickly.

The journey through cancer involves lots of doctors' appointments, tests and treatments. Nothing about this is easy — but at the new Southcoast Center for Cancer Care, we'll help you and your family every step of the way.

Along with the latest technology and treatment options, we have a Patient Navigator who will coordinate your appointments, answer your questions and help you stay on course.

Because nobody does this alone.
