

HOSPICE & HEALTHCARE

COMMUNICATIONS

SPEAKER PROFILE: KEN ROSS

Ken Ross is the son of psychiatrist, humanitarian and hospice pioneer, Dr. Elisabeth Kubler-Ross. Throughout his youth, he traveled with his mother to many of her speaking engagements, frequently meeting with those seeking her wisdom. Ken was also the caregiver for his mother the last nine years of her life, which ended in 2004. Following her death, Ken founded the Elisabeth Kubler-Ross Foundation and subsequently, has traveled the world sharing his mother's thoughts on compassionate care of the dying and the grieving. He also speaks on Elisabeth's incredible life journey and how each of us has the power to live a life based on love versus fear. His message is poignant, humorous, and filled with inspiration.

In addition, Ken is also a freelance photographer based in Sherman Oaks, California. He began his photography career in 1985 while residing in Sydney, Australia. Always on the move, his travels have taken him to 93 countries towards his goal of 101. He specializes in travel, location and editorial photography. His photographs have been published by a wide variety of corporate, advertising and editorial clients, including National Geographic, Time, Newsweek, Apple, American Express, Master Card, Visa, Bank of America, numerous airlines and more. Ross has also done many book projects for Frommer's & Fodor's Travel Guides including: Miami, Montreal, Las Vegas, Oahu, Costa Rica, Puerto Vallarta, New York City, and Chicago editions. In 2003, he co-authored a book with his mother entitled "The Real Taste of Life" which is available on Amazon. His latest projects include shooting red carpet events for movie premiers including: "Hunger Games: Mocking Jay," "Wild," "The Gambler" and "A Most Violent Year" among others.

Ken is also available for signing events on these two books:
Real Taste of Life: a journal published w/Elisabeth Kubler-Ross
Tea With Elisabeth: 51 personal reflections on the life and work of Dr. Elisabeth Kubler-Ross

To bring Ken Ross to your event or conference, please contact:
Dianne Gray, CEO of Hospice and Healthcare Communications:

Email: DGray@hhcommunications.com

Telephone: 239.595.5583

www.hhcommunications.com

Twitter: @diannebgray